

National High Performance Director Triathlon

Job No 768 Salary package negotiable

The Australian Institute of Sport in partnership with Triathlon Australia are seeking the services of a suitably qualified person to lead the national high performance program in preparation for the London Olympic Games and beyond.

This exciting management role will provide strong national leadership and implement strategies to achieve sustainable success for Australian triathlon at successive Olympic Games. It will include leading and managing the national high performance program across Australia and harnessing all of the available operational and technical resources for success.

The key performance measure will be the delivery of medals at Olympic Games.

Position is based in Canberra and will be available until 31 December 2012.

For selection documentation visit www.ausport.gov.au/jobs

If you are unable to access the internet, please contact our recruitment officer on (02) 6214 1328.

For enquiries after reading the job description contact Peter Fricker on (02) 6214 1238.

Applications close Friday, 24 October 2008